

Ian Troop, Chief Executive Officer
Toronto 2015 Pan / Parapan American Games Organizing Committee

Ian Troop is an experienced, skilled multinational business-builder and an involved community leader who believes in the fundamental value of sport in a healthy society.

Mr. Troop brings more than 28 years of senior operating experience with multinational corporations in the highly competitive consumer packaged goods industry. A graduate of Wilfrid Laurier University (Bachelor of Business Administration), Mr. Troop started his career with Procter & Gamble and for over 20 years, held a progression of leadership roles in Canada, Mexico, the United States and Poland. He moved to ConAgra Foods International as President, and built a billion dollar business with units in Canada, Mexico, India, Latin America, Asia, Europe and the Middle East. Here, he was responsible for 3,000 employees, five plants and more than US$1.4B in sales. Most recently, Mr. Troop was Operating Advisor to OMERS (Ontario Municipal Employees Retirement System) Private Equity, a $42-billion pension fund.

Mr. Troop also served on the Advisory Board of the National Hockey League Players Association. In 2006 and 2007, the Financial Post named Mr. Troop as one of Canada's top CEOs of the future. He is the Past Chairman of AgroTech Foods Ltd. (an Indian public company), past board member of Verde Valle (Mexico), Hunts-Universal Robina (Philippines) and Hunts-Chalkis (China). He currently serves as Chairman of Maxxam Scientific, on the board of Give & Go Foods, and on the Advisory Board of Mother Parkers and The Wheels Group.

An avid sportsman, Mr. Troop was high school athlete of the year at Toronto's Kipling Collegiate, and went on to play university football for Laurier. He is a member of the 1978 team inducted into the Laurier Hall of Fame. In 1979, Mr. Troop was an Ontario University Athletics all-star and in 1981, was drafted by the Canadian Football League's Hamilton Tiger Cats. In 2009, Mr. Troop was named Laurier's Alumnus of the Year.

Mr. Troop enjoys combining his love of community and sport. He co-founded a community hockey program in Warsaw, Poland and coached youth hockey in Cincinnati, Ohio and youth basketball at the Ontario Games. In his hometown of Georgetown, Ontario, Mr. Troop, as Chair, worked with other community members, the school board and local government on the Field of Dreams, an infrastructure project which was fully funded by the community.

He and wife Nicole are avid fans and supporters of their hockey player daughter Sofia and football player son Spencer.
